Abstract of the Invention

A method, apparatus and program for notifying an electronic address of the 5 presence of physical mail in a designated mailbox is provided. The presence of at least one piece of mail in the mailbox is detected and an electronic notification is transmitted to the address indicating the presence of the at least one piece of mail.